“If you give a nickel to charity while holding it under a magnifying glass, do you get credit as though you gave a

The logic is this: The Torah was given to human beings, not angels. Its laws are geared to normal human experience. Bugs we see in ‘real life’ are forbidden.

‘Invisible’ ones — which seem like they exist only in a laboratory — are not forbidden.

consuming the organisms. A renowned rabbi responded:

“If you give a nickel to charity while holding it under a magnifying glass, do you get credit as though you gave a dime?”

The answer is: The Torah prohibits only bugs which can be seen by the naked eye. Organisms seen only with the aid of a microscope are kosher.

Speaking of germs: Three amoebae are sitting on a park bench. Suddenly, one of them jumps up and runs off.

“Hey! Where did Harry go?” one asks the other.

“Guess he had to split.”
