HELP! THE PARANOIDS ARE AFTER ME!

“We were like grasshoppers in our eyes, and so were we in their eyes.” (13:33)

Scene: A Psychiatrist’s office.

Psychiatrist to man lying on his couch: “Well, the trouble is that you’re paranoid. Ask anyone!”

When a person suffers from low self-esteem, he projects his insecurity, his self-view, onto the view of others: “We were like grasshoppers in our eyes, and so we seemed in their eyes.”

Conversely, in warfare, sometimes the battle can be lost or won before a single shot is fired.

For if morale is low — if the army sees itself as grasshoppers — then there is just a small step to the enemy perceiving them as grasshoppers as well.

THE BEST PROTECTION

“Moshe called the name of Hoshea, son of Nun, ‘Yehoshua’. (13:16)

Of all twelve spies that Moshe sent to scout out the land of Israel, only Yehoshua and Calev did not fall prey to a conspiracy to slander the Land of Israel.

Before Yehoshua (who was then called Hoshea) left to scout the land, Moshe added the letter yud to the beginning of Hoshea’s name so that it would begin with one of Hashem’s Names. He did this to protect Yehoshua against the evil of the spies.

Why didn’t Moshe also change Calev’s name to protect him?

Calev was married to Miriam. Miriam was Moshe’s sister. She was a prophetess in her own right. It was through her merit that the Children of Israel had water in the desert.

The best protection a man can have is a righteous wife. If he has that, both his good name and his good sense will need no further protection.

FRINGE BENEFITS

“Speak to the Children of Israel and say to them; and they will make for themselves fringes on the corners of their garments...” (15:38)

The world is like a tallis (prayer shawl). The world has four compass points. The tallis has four sides. We talk colloquially of the four ‘corners’ of the world. The tallis has four corners.

The tzitzis — the fringes that hang from the tallis — are strings. They look like unfinished parts of the tallis itself. They teach us that the world is incomplete as it stands. They teach us that man’s job is to perfect the world through his actions.

The tzitzis have five knots, which correspond to the five Books of the Torah. Because the world reaches its fruition only with the giving and the observance of the Torah. The five knots also correspond to the five senses. All of which can be dedicated to the service of the Creator. The five words of the verse of the Shema are paralleled in the five knots of the tzitzis.

Tzitzis have eight strings. Eight is the number of transcendence. Their are seven days in the week; seven notes in the diatonic scale. Eight is that which links this world to that which is above this world.

The eight strings of the tzitzis relate to bris mila (circumcision), which takes place on the eighth day after the birth of a boy. This represents the ability of the Jew to elevate the physical to the metaphysical.

There are 613 commandments in the Torah. If you take the gematria (numerical equivalent) of the word tzitzis — 600 — and add it to the five knots and the eight strings, the result is 613.

Through the mitzva of tzitzis we can ‘attach’ ourselves to something that goes far beyond the physical world.

THE SECRET WEAPON

“Send for yourselves men to spy out the land of Canaan” (13:2)

After the Six Day War, the American military was intrigued to discover the secret ingredient which allowed Israeli pilots to knock-out an unheard-of ninety percent of the Egyptian airplanes.

The investigation examined every aspect of the pilots’ lives — even the most personal and secret. Any con-at the insistence of the Bnei Yisrael, and with Hashem’s permission, Moshe sends twelve scouts, one from each tribe, to investigate Canaan. Anticipating trouble, Moshe changes Hoshea’s name to Yehoshua, expressing a prayer that Hashem should not let him fail in his mission. They return 40 days later, carrying unusually large fruit. When ten of the twelve scouts state that the people in Canaan are as formidable as the fruit, the men are discouraged. Calev and Yehoshua, the only two scouts still in favor of the invasion, try to bolster the spirit of the people. The nation, however, decides that the Land is not worth the potentially fatal risks, and instead they demand a return to Egypt! Hashem is ‘angered’ by this attitude, but is eventually ‘placated’ by Moshe’s fervent prayers. However, He declares that the nation must remain in the desert for 40 years until the men who wept at the false report of the scouts pass away. A remorseful group, regretting their previous mistake, rashly begins an invasion of the Land based on Hashem’s original command. Moshe warns them not to proceed, but they fail to heed this warning, and are massacred. Hashem instructs Moshe concerning the offerings that will be made when the Bnei Yisrael will finally enter the Land of Israel. The people are commanded to remove challah, a donation for the kohanim, from their dough. The laws for an offering after an inadvertent sin, for an individual person or a group, are explained. However, should someone blaspheme against Hashem and be unrepentant, he will be cut off spiritually from his people. One man is found gathering wood on public property in violation of the laws of Shabbos, and is put to death. The laws of tzitzis are taught, and twice a day we recite this section of the Parsha because it reminds us of our Exodus.

EXCESSIVE CONVERSATION WITH A WOMAN, EVEN ONE’S OWN WIFE, CAN BE HARMFUL.

• Avos 1:5

If a man comes home and pours out his heart to his wife about his unpleasant experience with others, she sometimes encourages him to make a fight out of it, as we find in the case of Korach who was encouraged by his wife to rebel against Moshe. There is another danger as well of revealing to a wife the embarrassment and insult one has suffered from others. This may arouse in her the suspicion that there is a basis for their behavior and she may lose her respect for her husband.

BONUS QUESTION?

“For the tribe of Ephraim, Hoshea ben Nun.” (1:8) “For the tribe of Yosef, for the tribe of Menashe, Gaddi ben Susi.” (1:11) Why is only the tribe of Menashe identified with Yosef? Isn’t the tribe of Ephraim also descended from Yosef?

I DIDN’T KNOW THAT!

And your children will delay in the desert 40 years...the number of days you spied out the land, 40 days — one year for every year... (14:34). There are 15 days missing from the 40 years of wandering. How so, and why? The Jews entered Israel on the 10th day of Nissan. But based on the punishment, they should not have entered the Land until at least the 14th of Nissan, being that they left Egypt on the 15th of Nissan. We must therefore subtract four days from the 40 year punishment. We must subtract another 11 days for the time it would normally have taken them to go from Mount Sinai to the Land of Israel. These 11 days can’t be counted as part of the punishment since they needed to travel 11 days anyway. All together, there are 15 days missing from the 40 years of punishment. Rashi in the beginning of the Parsha tells us that the spies were “righteous at that hour.” Therefore, for one hour of their mission they didn’t deserve to be punished. One hour is a 24th part of a day, just as 15 days is a 24th part of a Jewish calendar year.

STREETS OF GOLD

Can you imagine what it must be like to look for a new job almost every single week of the year? It’s bad enough trying to find and hold down one job, but to have to start again every Monday morning, pounding the tarmac to find yet another way to put bread on the table! But that’s exactly what Jews did in America at the turn of the century. To escape the pogroms of Czarist Russia, Jews fled to America, having heard stories of a goldeneh medina, a land where the streets were paved with gold. In a sense that may have been true, but to mine that gold meant working on Shabbos. And that was unthinkable. So, these Jews would get hired on Monday, work until Friday afternoon, not turn up on Shabbos and get fired again on Monday. This happened week after week. It was through this tremendous self-sacrifice that Torah was established in America. What kept those spiritual heroes, and thus their descend-

Me'ilah 12-18

The answer lies in that very phrase “for atonement.” Only blood which is eligible to serve as atonement was excluded from the law of me’ilah. The blood taken from a live animal in the bloodletting process cannot be applied to the altar as any form of atonement, and is therefore not affected by the Torah’s limitation on the law of me’ilah relating to blood.

It should be added that the ban against eating blood does, however, apply to such blood which cannot serve as atonement, in the same way that it is forbidden to eat the blood of animals which have not been consecrated as sacrifices or of kosher beasts and birds which are not even eligible for sacrifices. The Torah’s explanation for the ban on blood because blood has a sacred purpose was intended to serve as a reason for prohibiting any sort of blood.

THE MYSTERY OF THE NEST

An idol is forbidden for any use by a Jew unless the heathen has renounced his intention of further worshipping it. The clearest demonstration of such renunciation is an action on his part to smash that idol or any part of it.

What is the rule if the idol fell and was thus smashed, not through the action of the idol worshipper?

There is a difference of opinion on this point between the sages Rabbi Yochanan and Rabbi Shimon ben Lakish. The first is of the opinion that the remains of this idol are still forbidden because there was no visible renunciation of its worship by the heathen. The opposing view is that these remains are now permitted for use because we may assume that the worshipper has renounced any intention of continued worship. “If the idol was not capable of saving itself,” says the heathen in his heart, “how will it be capable of saving me!”

Their differing opinions lead them to differing interpretations of the rule stated in the Mishnah that if there is an ashera tree worshipped as an idol with a bird’s nest on top, a Jew may remove it from the tree with the end of a pole. Rabbi Shimon ben Lakish understood this to mean that the nest had been formed from branches the bird had broken off that tree. This is therefore an idol which was smashed, albeit not by the idol worshipper, and permitted for use by the Jew who may now appropriate the nest.

Rabbi Yochanan, however, reads the Mishnah otherwise. The branches used for building the nest have been brought from another, non-idolatrous tree, and the issue does not concern the nest. What is of concern are the fledgling birds in the nest. The Mishnah informs us that since these birds are already capable of flying wherever they wish they are not considered to be a part of the forbidden idol tree and may be removed with a pole from its top, for permissible use.

PARSHA INSIGHTS

The Jewish People have but ‘One Friend’ in a world of seventy wolves. But He is the only Friend we need. When we triumph, it’s not because of F-16s, superior morale, motivation, or fortified breakfast cereal; it is because Hashem wills it.

Dear Ben-Judah,

Rabbi Akiva said: “There are three things I really like about the Medeans: when they cut meat, they do so only upon a table; when they kiss, they do so only upon the hand; and when they speak privately, they do so only out in a field.”

These three things can be explained as follows: Cutting meat on a table is safe, as opposed to holding the meat in your hand while you cut it. Kissing the hand is more respectable than kissing the lips because of the saliva emitted. Private matters are best discussed in a field because — as Rashi wrote 900 years ago — ‘walls have ears.’ Or, as a verse teaches: “A little birdie told me.”

Kissing on the hand can also be seen as more modest than kissing the lips.

Today, it is mostly the practice of Sephardic Jews to kiss the hand upon meeting a Rabbi or Torah scholar, and it is considered a sign of great respect. Chassidic Jews sometimes kiss the hand of their Grand Rabbi.

Many years ago, a friend of mine was studying and came across the above-mentioned statement of Rabbi Akiva. My friend asked: “Why does the Talmud have to point out the danger of cutting meat while holding it in your hand? Isn’t that pretty obvious?”

Well, last year someone sent me an article from the Detroit Jewish News. According to the article, hospitals across the country have identified a new malady which they call Sunday-Morning Bagelitis. (Seriously, this is not a joke!) Every Sunday morning, emergency rooms in major Jewish population centers report an increase of people with serious hand wounds. To what do they attribute this increase? To Jewish people who cut their hands while slicing bagels — especially frozen bagels, which are hard, slippery and quite a danger!

<decatur@swbell.net>

Dear Rabbi,

I have long felt that when G-d commanded light into existence that it was a direct command to light as in “Light, be!” rather than saying “Let there be light.” In other words as in the sentence “John, stop!”

Saying “Let there be light” or “Let light be” doesn’t seem to ring true to me. I am not very familiar with the Hebrew language so please let me know if I am all wet here.

Dear Mike Fulstone,

Since light did not exist yet, G-d could not address it and tell it to be. He did, however, say “Let light be.” By saying that, G-d was addressing the space/time reality that He had already created, telling it to bring forth light. A more correct translation of the original Hebrew is “There shall be light.”

PARSHA Q&A!

Answers to this Week’s Questions!
All references are to the verses and Rashi’s commentary unless otherwise stated.

1. 13:4-15 - The tribe of Levi did not send a spy.
2. 13:8 - Is there a righteous person whose merit will ‘shade’ and shield the Canaanites?
3. 13:22 - Cham.
5. 13:25 - Hashem knew the Jewish People would sin on account of the meraglim and would spend a year in the midbar for every day of the mission. Therefore, Hashem shortened the journey to soften the decree against the Jewish People.
6. 13:27 - Any lie which doesn’t start with an element of truth will not be believed; therefore, they began their false report with a true statement.
7. 13:30 - He fooled them by shouting, “Is this all that the son of Amram did to us?” The people quieted themselves to hear what disparaging thing Calev wished to say about the ‘son of Amram’ (Moshe).
8. 13:32 - Hashem caused many deaths among the Canaanites so they would be preoccupied with burying their dead and not notice the meraglim.
10. 14:1 - The 9th of Av. Therefore, the Temples were destroyed on this date.
12. 14:10 - They wanted to stone them.
14. 14:44 - Voyapilu means strength and brazeness. It's used in connection with the people who tried to go to the Land of Israel without Moshe’s consent.
15. 13:24, 14:45 - Nachal Eshkol, because of the cluster of grapes taken there. Chormah, because of the destruction that occurred there.
16. 15:18 - The obligation to observe other mitzvos associated with Eretz Yisrael began only after the possession and division of the Land. The obligation to observe the mitzvah of challah started immediately upon entering the Land.
17. 15:20 - No fixed amount is stated in the Torah. Rabbinical Law requires a household to give 1/24, and a baker to give 1/48.
18. 15:31 - Hashem gave this commandment directly to the Jewish People.
19. 15:32 - Just one.
20. 15:39 - From the blood of the chilazon.
