Sherlox Holmes

Mud flew as the carriage moved through the rain. In the distance trudged two dark figures sharing one umbrella. “Driver!” called out world famous detective Sherlox Holmes, “Please stop and pick up that poor father and son up ahead.”

“How, from this distance, can you tell it’s a father and son?” asked Watstein.

“It’s pouring rain, yet the one is holding the umbrella over the head of the other as only a father would do for a son. For better or worse, parents have a strange tendency to put their children first.”

“Speaking of parents,” said Watstein, “perhaps you could unravel this mystery for me. The verse quotes Moshe as saying: ‘And the Egyptians did evil to us and to our fathers (20:15).’ Rashi comments: ‘From here we see that the Forefathers (Avraham, Yitzchak and Yaakov) experience pain in their grave when bad things befall the Jewish People.’”

“Does a parent ever lose concern for a child?” said Sherlox.

“No. But why does Rashi seem to take the word ‘fathers’ out of context? The Egyptians oppressed Moshe’s parents’ generation as well. Why can’t the word ‘fathers’ refer to the previous generation who indeed suffered directly from the Egyptians? Why must Rashi go ‘digging’ in order to explain that the ‘fathers’ mentioned suffered posthumously?”

Just then the carriage stopped and the door opened. “Climb in son!” said Sherlox.

“Always putting their children first,” said Sherlox.
I Did Not Know That!

“Why have you brought the congregation of Hashem to this wilderness... not a place of seed, or fig, or grape or pomegranate...” (20:4-6)

The above complaint contains all the species that represent the good of the Land of Israel, except for olives and dates. Why didn’t they complain about a lack of olives and dates? Because they tasted these flavors in the manna, which tasted like tzapichis b’dvash (cakes of date honey) and leshad hashamen (dough needed with olive oil). For the same reason, the spies brought only grapes, figs and pomegranates, but not olives and dates, for these they tasted in the manna.
