I Did Not Know That!

When King Ptolmy commanded the elders to translate the Torah into Greek, Hashem put into their hearts to alter the translation. One example — the word arneves (rabbit) was changed to tze’iras hareglaim (short legged creature). King Ptolmy’s wife was named Arneves, and it wasn’t deemed wise to list the king’s wife as one of the non-kosher animals.

Bonus

The Torah teaches that Hashem is ready to grant the blessing immediately. He requires only that the people fulfill their “part of the deal” by upholding the Torah. The curse, on the other hand, He is not as ready to give. Only if the Jewish People violate the Torah will Hashem then “be forced” to activate the curse.
