PAR-PLEXED!

How do you answer this perplexing Parsha question?

Parshas Bechukosai starts with ten verses describing blessings that result from Torah study and observance. Then, more than thirty verses describes the curses brought about by laxity in Torah study and observance. Why do there seem to be more curses than blessings? Doesn’t this contradict the principle that G-d always rewards in greater measure than He punishes?

Answer:

The blessings are written in general terms; each one is really an entire category and includes many blessings. Each curse, on the other hand, is spelled out in detail (in order to inspire fear and alarm). In reality, though, there are more blessings than curses.

Ibn Ezra

I Did Not Know That!

“And five of you will pursue a hundred [enemy soldiers].” (26:8)

This refers to our weakest soldiers; our weakest soldier will be able to defeat twenty enemies. Our strongest soldier will be able to defeat a thousand or more.
